

Parenting a House United

2014 LDS Oregon Home Educators Association Conference Keynote Speaker

Nicholeen Peck

Giving Homeschool Families the Foundations to Grow by Teaching Self-Government

Saturday, April 26th 2014, 8:30-4pm

Do you feel overloaded, overworked, & overwhelmed as a homeschooling parent? Do you feel like you don't even want to be around, talk with, or deal with a particular child? Do you feel like you spend your day trying to get your children to behave, listen, and get along? Are you interested in finding better ways to have a more unified, happy, and loving family?

Register Now at:

www.herogenerationcommonwealth.com

Nicholeen Peck is the mother of four and previous foster parent of many difficult and troubled teens. The Peck family's success with these difficult children was based upon calmness, the principles of self-government, and good communication. Nicholeen was featured on BBC's most watched episode of "The World's Strictest Parents". She is the author of Parenting a House United, and has appeared on various news shows and radio programs to discuss effective parenting. She is a popular public speaker and author of many books. Find more information at <http://TeachingSelfGovernment.com>

REGISTER TODAY!

Two additional workshops offered:
Homeschooling 101
Teaching Math So Kids Will Love It

Speaker: Nicholeen Peck

Reedville
Presbyterian Church
2786 SW 209th Ave
Beaverton OR 97006

$35 per Couple
before April 18th

$45 per Couple
after April 18th

Order Homemade Lunch
$7.00 each